Serving the Most Vulnerable in our Community with Hospitality, Compassion and Dignity

A Summer Message: Changing Lives Today, Planning for the Future

Dear Friend of McAuley Ministries,

We hope you are enjoying your summer, and as it begins to wind down, we want to keep you up to date. Our Mission to serve the most vulnerable in our community continues to be our main priority. We welcome all who enter our doors with love and mercy.

Thanks to your compassionate generosity, our "Freedom from Hunger" Summer Appeal to feed hungry children is close to meeting its fundraising goal. With just a little more support, we will have the resources to feed each and every child who comes to McAuley House a healthy breakfast and a nutritious lunch.

At McAuley Village, our moms continue to grow and make progress with their education and job-training skills. Each day, these inspirational women move closer to careers that can financially sustain them and their children after completing our transitional living program. Several moms have begun classes to become chefs, others are at CCRI enrolled in Math and English classes, and one just graduated from CNA training.

The communities of Central Falls and Pawtucket are grateful for your donations of summer clothing, which are available to working families at The Warde-robe. And with the weeks seemingly passing quicker than ever, now is the time to gather your gently used fall and cold weather clothing to donate. Brisk weather will be here before we know it!

You may have noticed that the McAuley Ministries website (www.McAuleyRI.org) is currently undergoing a major refresh. During this project, the current homepage is in operation and we have made sure that our DONATE button is in full working order.

Lastly, we are planning for the future and are currently in the midst of updating our Three-Year Strategic Plan. Ensuring that McAuley Ministries is financially secure is the only way we are able to continue our Mission. Will you consider a planned gift to McAuley Ministries?

Our best to you, and our sincerest thanks to all for your continued support of our work.

With gratitude,

Don Wolfe

Delicious AND Nutritious Healing Foods
 Project Dinner Recipes? Yes, Please!

If you're ready to mix things up with your home-cooked meals, we have just what you're looking for—Healing Foods Project recipes. But, with a special twist during these summer months.

With fresh produce in abundance right now, our kitchen staff has been using the fresh vegetables donated to us as a substitute for the canned vegetables in our Healing Foods Project recipes. Our guests love it, and now we want you to give it a try at home!

Nearly every recipe can be altered to include your favorite fresh vegetables. Chef Stanley recommends putting your own spin on "Broccoli and Peppers Fried Rice" or "Spinach, Beans and Pasta."

Just visit www.HealingFoodsProject.org to download the recipes and add your own personal touch. And then, like us on Facebook and let us know what you tried and what fresh veggies you used!
